

JOHN JACKSON.

[To accompany Bill H. R. No. 70.]

MARCH 30, 1860.

Mr. F. W. KELLOGG, from the Committee on Invalid Pensions, made the following REPORT.

The Committee on Invalid Pensions, to whom was referred the House bill, No. 70, "granting pension to John Jackson, an invalid soldier," report:

That they have had the same under consideration, and from the proofs find that the said John Jackson was draughted in the county of Sullivan, State of Tennessee, in January, 1814, into the army of the United States for six months; was and so served as a private in the company of Captain Joseph Everett, in a regiment commanded by Colonel Ewing Allesen; joined General Jackson's army at Fort Strother; was in the battle of Horse Shoe; when the army marched to Hickory Ground, he was sick and left at Fort Williams. He was attacked with bowel disease, and that he has been afflicted with said disease ever since; he served out his time, and has since resided in Sullivan county, and has led a sober, temperate life; that he is now seventy-five years of age; that he has received eighty acres of bounty land; that he applied to the Pension office in 1852 for a pension, but has never heard from the application. The committee concur in reporting the bill granting him a pension, and recommend its passage.
